BY REV. WILLIAM M. DAME., D.D.,
Chaplain of The Daughters of the Confederacy in the State of Maryland.

O God, our Father, and King Eternal, we bow down before Thy throne to praise Thee, and to ask Thy blessing! From Thee is all good. From Thee cometh light and wisdom, and in Thy hand are the hearts of all men.

We therefore thank Thee for these soldier sons of Maryland, to whose honor this monument bears witness.

In that great past day of trial, when the sea, and the waves of human passions were roaring, and the hearts of many were failing them for fear and confusion, Thou didst give unto these men a wise and understanding heart. Amidst the darkness and contending voices of the time Thou gavest unto them the open eye to discern the righteous cause, the open ear to hear the clear call of truth, the ready mind to hearken. Thou didst give unto them grace to set country above self, conscience above policy, and duty above ease and interest.
